Plant visit-Budhni, MP

We recently visited Trident (TRID IN) plant at Budhni in Madhya Pradesh, about 70km away from Bhopal to gauge the progress of new Bed-linen plant where trial run has started recently. We interacted with Mr. D.K Mittal -CEO operation-Bed linen at Budhni.

Bed-Linen facility to stabilize by Q4FY16

The company commenced trial production of its Bed- linen plant on September 23, 2015. The bed-linen plant is fully integrated with 500 looms capable of producing 43.2 million meters of bed-linen per annum along with 190K yarn spindles (biggest yarn facility in India) for captive consumption. Of the total project investment of INR 16,670mn, ~50% went for setting up the yarn facility and the rest ~50% for bed-linen facility. The company expects that it will take around 3-5 months for technology stabilization and obtaining the customer certifications alongside building the order book. The plant is expected to stabilize by Q4FY16 and the management expects to achieve 50-60% utilization by end of FY17. The bed-linen project has the potential to generate revenue in the range of INR 10-12bn at optimum capacity utilization. Company is targeting to sale 10,000 meter per day in domestic market- ~8% of total capacity of 43.2mn meter per annum. About 60-70% sales of bed-linen will happen in US with the rest in Europe. Budni plant has ~4000 employee of which 40% stay at plant facility and rest are from adjacent area. The company purchases power from grid through long term contract at INR ~5.5 per unit.

Bets on better marketing strategy & initiatives

For providing better focus for bed-linen product sales, the company has set up new dedicated team at New Delhi. It has also set-up a team at New York for frequent interactions with customers and expand its customer base. Meanwhile, it has been using domestic market for the last six months for market understanding of the overall bed-linen business while selling bed-linen outsourced from other suppliers. It has launched various brands in its different business segments along with appointing brand ambassadors for its line of products. The firm is actively participating in Market Weeks to explore new customers and new markets.

Valuation – reiterate Buy with a new TP of INR 63

We believe Trident is slated for a rerating, due to 1) a change in revenue mix towards high-margin businesses of terry towels & bed linen, and 2) presence across the value chain of textiles manufacturing to bring about natural synergies to business and offset raw material price fluctuation risks. We reiterate Buy and raise our TP to INR 63 from INR 51 on raising our valuation multiple. We value the stock on an average of 10x (revised upwards from 8x) on FY17E earnings and 5.5x (revised upwards from 5x) FY17E EV/EBITDA.
